TRAVEL IS THE ONLY THING YOU BUY THAT MAKES YOU RICHER

The author of this adage is unknown, but after 22 years of providing memorable trips for many, many clients, I know that this statement is absolutely true.

It's at least half a lifetime ago that my sister, Richelle, and I began to plan ski trips for our friends. We had traveled pretty extensively to compete as ski racers, and after those early racing days, friends and colleagues would ask us to arrange travel for them based on where we had been and what we had seen. Before long, Alpine Adventures was officially launched.

We now offer a full range of travel experiences. We can send you whitewater rafting in Costa Rica. You can arrange a guided city-to-city tour, like Dubai to Shanghai to Singapore. We send skiers to Chile and Argentina in the summer, with side trips to Buenos Aires to learn tango, to the winelands that surround Santiago, or to adventures in vast and still-wild Patagonia.

Most recently, our love of still-wild places has taken us to Africa - and we are totally enchanted. We are so committed to conserving the natural wonders in this breathtaking and paradoxical continent that we have opened a division of Alpine Adventures that is dedicated to getting travelers to experience the many unique destinations there.

Adventures Africa is based at our headquarters in Fort Lauderdale, Florida, and we have brought over South Africa native and veteran safari guide, Ryan de Beer, to be our resident consulting expert.

Between our own many trips to Africa and Ryan's hands-on knowledge, we are now arranging lifetime journeys for our clients who want to see and do it all while there. See our website at www.adventuresafrica.com.

This catalog is our invitation to you. Let Alpine Adventures arrange an unforgettable ski trip to your favorite mountain, or to that place that you have always dreamed of skiing. We contract with remarkable properties and with remarkable people in our ski destinations, and we can take care of all the travel details including air, land transfers, train tickets, lift tickets, equipment rentals, on-mountain guides, dining recommendations, cultural events like Christmas markets or cooking classes, and side excursions to any other locations you may wish to visit.

Contact us today with your travel dreams. Making your life richer through travel is our mission - we already know it's a wonderful world out there!
